About IIT Kharagpur

Kharagpur – a dusty town tucked away in the eastern corner of India, famous until 1950 as home to the longest railway platform in the world – became the nursery where the seed of the IIT system was planted in 1951. IIT Kharagpur started its journey in the old Injil Detention Camp in Eastern India, where some of the country's great freedom fighters toiled and sacrificed their lives for India's independence. Spurred by the success of IIT Kharagpur, four younger IITs sprouted around the country in the following decades, and from these five came thousands of IITians, the backbone of modern India. It was the success of this one institution at Kharagpur that wrote India's technological odyssey.

The Institute takes pride in its relentless effort to provide the best platform for both education as well as research in the areas of science, technology, infrastructure design, entrepreneurship, law, management, medical science and technology. IITKGP is not just the place to study, it is the place where students are taught to dream, set the future of technology and team across disciplines, making differences enough to change the world.
